DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C.

121:

- I. Claims 1-19, 31-33, and 41-69, are drawn to a unitary hook fastener, classified in class 24, subclass 452.
- II. Claims 20-30, and 34-40, are drawn to a method of forming a unitary fastener comprising the steps of extruding a thermoplastic resin in a machine direction through a die plate, classified in class 156, subclass 500
- III. Claims 70-101 are drawn to disposable diaper having a fastener strip, classified in class 604, subclass 385.03.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group I, and Group II, are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product of Group I, as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as casting or molding, wherein the steps of extruding a thermoplastic resin in a machine direction through a die plate is not required for forming the hook fastener of Group I, as claimed.

Inventions of Group I, and III, are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of Group I, as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product as a separable releasable hook fastener, wherein a disposable diaper as recited in Group III, is not required in order to use the unitary hook fastener of Group II.

Inventions of Group II, and Group III, are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the fastener strip of Group III, as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, wherein extruding the fastener strip in a machine direction through a die plate as recited in Group II, is not required in order to form the fastener strip of Group III.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I, is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II, is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I, is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
